PICK!

The first Padua Playwrights Masters Tribute Series honors L.A. playwright Murray Mednick with three full-length world premieres of his work. Titled, "New Works by Murray Mednick," the series includes "Clown Show for Bruno," an homage to Polish writer and artist Bruno Schultz, who was enslaved by a Nazi officer in 1939 and later killed by the officer's personal rival. The other two works are "The Destruction of the Fourth World" and a film adaptation of Mednick's play, "Girl on a Bed." All three shows can be seen on these dates March 28, April 4, April 11 and April 18 in a special package for $50. Regular performances run March 26-April 19. $20. Art Share L.A., 801 E. Fourth Place, Los Angeles. (213) 625-1766. <http://www.paduaplaywrights.net>.
